The fourth floor, where the Cafeteria and Restaurant is to be given up entirely to this great event and visitors will be invited to inspect all the new goods will be displayed at a special "Carnivalia" price, at booths presided over by subcommittees in the national costumes. The decorations will be most attractive. Languages spoken are: French, German, Italian and Spanish.

NO ROOM IN CANADA FOR THE SHEDDER OF BLOOD.

The practice of carrying concealed weapons seems to be growing apace in this country. Up to a few years ago Canadians were wont to throw up their hands in horror whenever a shooting or stabbing affray was reported as happening in a United States city. Today it is different. The people here know what the arm-bearing lunacy means. They have the evil in their midst. Newcomers from the most civilized lands have adopted the habit of the immigrants from the throating countries. What is the reason? There have been reform and uplift movements without number. The bad old game of two fellows punching each other for a stake has been done away with. No more is it legal for the well-trained Bill Jones to punch the fine-conditioned Bill Smith into taking the referee's count of ten and accepting the small end of the purse, before an admiring and open-mouthed throng.

Present conditions are much worse than past. It is time for a change. Citizens should be safer today than ever before. The men who think otherwise should be taught a lesson whenever they give rein to their viciousness or lunacy. Severe penalties are provided by law. Let them be applied. There is no room in Canada for the shedder of blood.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD TO PUT SAFETY FIRST.

Every time the clock ticks 16 times a worker somewhere in the United States is hurt in an accident, most of which a proper supervision of industry, coupled with intelligence, would prevent. Every quarter of an hour a worker is killed. The situation is not so bad in Canada, but bad enough.

The continuous toll of the shops, mills and railroads in maimed and dying in the United States exceeds each year the total blood cost of the Civil war; it strikes into the life blood of every inhabitant in 50 and of every worker in 10.

If it happened at one place at one time, humanity would be staggered. Because it is scattered, continuous and familiar, it is tolerated. Though we're slowly learning that life is more important than property, we're still largely letting dollars stand in the way of welfare, instead of making them minister to the greatest good of the greatest number.

Late in October, in Harrisburg, Pa., a unique convention is to be held. That city has had many conventions, most of them called by greed to apportion the spoils of a plundered commonwealth. Strangely, however, this is to be a convention to see what can be done to better the common lot.

The delegates are to be from labor unions, stockholders, insurance companies, humane organizations, public officials; and the subject for consideration is the broad one of how to proceed to reduce accidents in industry, losses of life and property by fire and occupational wastes of health and welfare.

Preliminary to a commissioner of labor is visiting the various central bodies of organized labor, asking their help in the important work of his department and explaining that if the frightful blood toll is to be made less, it can only be done by everybody lending a hand.

If every state or province were to have conferences like these, at which facts, opinions and suggestions could be cleared, it would not be long before there would crystallize a public opinion which would enforce real progress toward safer and juster working conditions.

Not the millennium right away, but progress. It is one of the best ways we know to put the man above the dollar.

STONING THE WOMAN TO END THE SOCIAL EVIL.

The head of Detroit's police force, in a spirit of zeal, has fixed December 15 as the date when the 2,000 women of Detroit's underworld are to be put out of business. Asked what these outcast victims of men's lusts are to do, his sole reply is: "My duty ends when the resorts are closed."

Technically, that may be true. But you can take it from us that the duty of society doesn't end there—not by a good deal.

By its long tolerance the city of Detroit is partner in guilt for this vicious situation; and the chances are it will find it can't get out of its responsibility by the mere fiat of a police official.

The churches, which have invited and welcomed abrupt closure, won't be blameless either, unless, having remembered the teachings of the Master, they are ready to shelter all penitents, minister to the bruised and diseased and help them to "go and sin no more."

The vile business in which these poor women are engaged ought, of course, to be stopped. But stopping it isn't the simple thing of clapping on a police injunction. We venture the opinion that it can't be stopped until the causes beneath it are stopped also. Is Detroit or any other city really ready, in good faith, to try to reach the bottom?

We have heard of no proposals in Detroit to put the law with equal firmness on the males who made it profitable for these women to sin.

The record is silent about any concerted movement to require the payment of wages in honest industry high enough to permit men and women to live comfortably in marriage, free from the pressure of illicit competition.

The plan apparently is the ancient, cruel and futile one of "stone the woman, but let the man go free."

It has never worked. And, what's more, it oughtn't ever to work, for it is pagan, brutal and unjust.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver, and bowels without griping.

When, cross, irritable, feverish or growth is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours the play child again. When his little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, or, remember, a good "inside cleaner" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a California today save a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

Hon. Charles Murphy, who was Secretary of State in the Laurier administration, was born in Ottawa 50 years ago today. His father, James Murphy, was a native of King's County, Ireland, and he was educated in Limerick. The future statesman was educated at Christian Brothers' school, College Institute and the University of Ottawa, receiving the degree of B. A. in 1884. A distinguished lawyer, he has since entered the House of Commons.

On the 10th of November, 1868, in the same year was made Secretary of State. Sir John A. Macdonald, the founder of the Allan Islands, died at Edinburgh 31 years ago today. He was born in Scotland in 1819, came to Canada at the age of 17, and from his young manhood was interested in the fur trade. He was educated in his adopted land, in 1853 he obtained the great office of Secretary of State for the Interior.

An important event in Fredericton's history marked this date in 1825, when the Government House was completed. Fredericton, formerly called St. Ann's, was made the capital of New Brunswick upon the formation of that Province in 1782. In 1825 about half of the town was wiped out by a fire.

On this date in 1891 Canada imposed a duty on all fish imported from Newfoundland.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

Birthday of "Uncle Remus," beloved of all the kiddies.

"Den Brer Rabbit sure pull his mule-ears, on you. You sh't not no calamus root, is you Brer Rabbit? This ole nigger here can't do no more. You sh't not no calamus root, is you Brer Rabbit? This ole nigger here can't do no more."

This paragraph will prove to hundreds of thousands one of the dearest delights of their childhood, when they read or listened to the thrilling tales of the adventures of Brer Rabbit and the other entertaining characters that flitted through the "Uncle Remus" stories of Joel Chandler Harris.

The kindly, old, southern storyteller, who created "Uncle Remus," was born 62 years ago today. He is dead, but his words are as fresh as ever, and his stories are as true as the stars.

The whole Catholic world will celebrate today the feast of the Immaculate Conception, one of the most important festivals of the Church of Rome. This doctrine was promulgated by a bull which placed the feast of the Immaculate Conception of our beloved Lady from the stains of a just belief to the dignity of a dogma, and charging with heresy those who should doubt or speak against it. The miracle of faith thus honored with a special festival, of course, the belief held by all Catholics that the Virgin Mary was miraculously exempt from all stain of original sin.

Today also marks the anniversary of the opening of the general council of the Roman Catholic Church at Rome in 1869, when, after long discussion, the doctrine of the infallibility of the Pope as head of the church was declared.

This 14th Annual Protection Day, marking the existence in Washington of a great international Annual Protection Congress, the question of the abolition or restriction of vivisection will be discussed by the representatives of the various scientific societies of the world. The movement originated in this country by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which was organized in 1893, when the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was founded, with their headquarters in London. WIFE'S LOVE BRINGS $200. Huntingdon, W. Va., Dec. 6.—A. J. B. has granted $200 damages to E. S. Duncanson, a salesman, formerly of New York City, in his suit against H. R. Pringle, a wealthy furniture man, for $25,000 damages.

Dunn charged Pringle, who married a sister of Mrs. Dunn, with having alienated her affections by means of a motor car, automobile and a life insurance policy. Mrs. Pringle on her deathbed made Mrs. Dunn promise to care for her infant child. Dunn, who at the time was living in New York, sold his business there and with his wife came to Huntingdon to stay with Pringle and care for the baby.

Dunn declares he later found that Pringle was paying too much attention to Mrs. Dunn. Finally the rich furniture man, with his baby and Mrs. Dunn went to Charleston, W. Va., leaving Mrs. Dunn there. When Dunn asked his wife to return she agreed to do so, but he would supply her with luxuries as Pringle was doing. Dunn then filed his alienation suit.

BAD BACHELOR HIPPOS. Sir John Kirk and Livingston were attacked by a hippopotamus that was, no doubt, a "bachelor." Speaking of the hippopotamus of the Cape, Livingston says that "as certain elephants are expelled from the herd they become more in their temper and as misanthropic as to attack every animal that comes near them. The herd is never dangerous except when a canoe comes into the midst of it when all are asleep, and some of them may strike the canoe in terror. As a rule, these animals fear the approach of man. The hippopotamus, however, frequent localities well known to the inhabitants on the banks and, like the rogue elephants, are extremely dangerous." Livingston learned that when attacked by one you should drive to the bottom and keep there a few seconds, since the hippo soon moves off if he finds nobody on the surface. — London Sphere.

STOLEN WORK OF ART SOON FOUND AGAIN

Theft of Pinturicchio's Madonna
Discovered by English
Tourists.

PRIEST ASSERTED
TO BE ACCOMPLICE

Masterpiece Sent to London
Where it is Held in Italian
Embassy.

London, Dec. 8.—The theft of Pinturicchio's famous painting of the "Madonna and the Child," was discovered in circumstances such as might delight even the most fastidious of detective stories.

The plot had been so carefully laid that the theft might have remained undetected for weeks but for the providential eagerness of two wandering Englishmen in search every feature of the masterpiece.

The two Englishmen, who are touring in Italy, entered the parish church of Santa Maria Maggiore at Spello, in Umbria. They were looking at the picture of "The Madonna and the Child" which they considered the most beautiful of the kind in Italy.

An obliging priest promptly produced a mirror, and by reflecting the picture in a window, projected a gleam of light on the picture. A moment later, to the amazement of the tourists, he ran off with a shout of consternation, returning presently with a powerful lamp, by the aid of which he detected the painting, which by inch, still he would not believe the evidence of his own eyes, and, followed by the two Englishmen, he sought the advice of two local artists, who examined the picture for a long time, and finally pronounced it a fake.

Authorities Notified.

The mayor of the town was called in, and caused a telegram to be sent to the inspector of Carabinieri, stationed at Perugia. The government inspector arrived a few hours later, and did not seem to be surprised at the marvellous cleverness of the unknown forger. The painting had been copied even to the cracks and the red seal of wax on the frame had also been reproduced to perfection.

Only the experienced eyes of the old artist, who had seen the painting every day for the last 30 years could have detected the substitution.

The most urgent thing to do now was to ascertain how long the picture had been in the hands of the forger. The inspector was told that the picture had been in the hands of the forger for about 10 years, and that the theft could not have been made without the knowledge of the priest of the parish church, whom he mentioned.

Priest Makes Confession.

The priest confessed, in fact, that the picture had been taken from his frame at the previous day, and was now in the hands of Marquis Barabes, a well known art dealer, to whom he had given it for two or three days only.

The priest asserted that he had not been shaken by the fact that a picture whose name he would not disclose had spent several months in the hands of the forger, and that he had seen the picture and photographs of the picture, finally producing a perfect copy of it. However, the priest was arrested, and the inspector proceeded to Florence over night.

A small army of policemen, stormed the missing station at Florence in the early morning to look for the vanished masterpiece, but the search, apparently hopeless, when a detective called at the Hotel de la Gare, where Marquis Barabes was staying.

The Marquis stoutly denied knowing anything of the missing picture, but, after remaining at his hotel, he did not long to wait, for a few minutes later a tall, dark man called and asked to see the Marquis. He was arrested forthwith, and submitted to a long cross-examination. In the course of which he confessed that the picture was hidden in a yellow leather travelling bag specially made to fit the picture.

Picture Shipped to London.

The bag had been sent to London, and with it had been sent the double picture, where the panel was concealed.

Pressed further by the detectives, the man was obliged to telephone his wife, who came at once to the police station and produced a copy of the real picture, which was attached to the bag. The specimen proved to be an Italian work, and the man, who had been in London and at once commencing to travel, was taken to the station and arrived at Charing Cross, where it was opened in the presence of the Italian Consul-General. The picture was identified by the director of the Milan Pinacothèque of Beza, an expert, who is now by a lucky chance on a visit to London.

The picture was then handed over to the Italian Consul. An expert is coming over from Italy to take possession of the stolen masterpiece, which will soon be restored to the parish church of Spello.

For all endeavours to trace the man who painted the fake panel have been abandoned.

THE GAY WORLD.

The Hon. Roger Brand and his bride arrived in Edmonton from London, England last week and are staying at the Corona. Mr. and Mrs. Brand have taken Mr. Bely's house on Thirtieth street, during the time they are in town.

Among the many passengers who left for the old country to spend Christmas this morning were Mr. Thornton, Mr. Penherton, Mr. H. H. Hewitt, Mr. W. Wright and Mr. D. Brown.

The Misses Roberts-Allen are entertaining at a girls tea on Tuesday.

"The Dancers" at the Blue Moon ballroom on Saturday afternoon was a great success. There were many numbers of parties and an unusual number dancing.

Among the guests who came in to tea at Mrs. Murphy's bridge on Friday were Mrs. Sifton, Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, Madams Cote, Mrs. George O'Connor, Mrs. G. R. Kirkpatrick, Miss Shildy, Mrs. H. W. Chasley, Mrs. King, Mrs. Percy Rogers, Mrs. Thistle, Miss Forsyth and Mrs. Williamson Taylor.

Mrs. Harcourt entertained a luncheon party last in honor of Mrs. Ferguson-Burke.

RECEPTION.
Mrs. Roberts-Allen received on Friday afternoon and was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Taylor. A very large number of people called. Mrs. Taylor wore a handsome black costume. Mrs. Roberts-Allen had on a gown of navy blue satin with handsome lace trimming.

A shower of pink roses centered the fest-table. Mrs. Turnbull poured tea and the daughter of the house, Miss Roberts-Allen, her sister, and Miss Turnbull assisted.

TEA.
Mrs. Hunter, Twenty-fifth street, gave a most enjoyable tea last week. It was quite informal. Mrs. Montgomery poured tea and among the guests were: Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Neville, Mrs. McLeod, Miss Richardson, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. E. S. Palmer and Mrs. A. Cairns.

AT HOME.
An at home will be given in Westminster Presbyterian church, corner of Albany and Twenty-ninth street, for the benefit of the ladies aid, by Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Bishop on Wednesday evening from 7:30 o'clock. Miss Roberts-Allen and Miss Dutch Roberts-Allen assisted by Miss Turnbull.

Toronto has set us the example and we must "Tango." "Lady Day" in Toronto Saturday Night says: "Tango is everything this season, nothing is complete without it. More over if you want vigorous physical exercise that will do you more good than 20 wines, do the tango."

One takes it for granted that you have become interested in the tango either for or against and one is tempted to prophesy that you will be learning to dance it before the season is over.

A lady indignantly proclaimed recently that "We must find something for our young people to do to keep them from these tango dances" and the epithetical tone in which the last two words were uttered suggested that tango dances were akin to a very warm and unkindly for finite to our career. A similar storm of protest from too conservative people arose when the tango was introduced. People were shocked into paroxysms of expostulation, yet today who would think of chastising the passionate among the naughty things of the city.

"Le Vie O'clock" had become very popular with many Parisiennes before the arrival of the tango, but the new dance has set the seal upon the afternoon function. It is now an institution.

The only difference between it and English afternoon tea is that it is rather formal affair. It isn't really served unless some one outside the immediate family is present. Madame would not have it for herself and children alone, but the moment a guest comes the tea appears almost as quickly as it does in plays.

If Madame were to give you her confidence she would admit that she really prefers tea at ten at night instead of four or five in the afternoon.
She has yielded to custom, though, and of course with tango late almost every day she has got into the habit of chafing something (often something and refreshing like tea rather than the chocolate with whipped cream she used to favor as an afternoon beverage. But tea is still very expensive in Paris, perhaps that is why serving it is still rather a "company" affair.

The "company" at the smart restaurants on the Place Vendôme is rather costly and good tea for home consumption is very hard to find. But it is good and only a few years ago it was generally a hoppers beverage. The tea-loving ladies in Paris, perhaps that is why serving it is still rather a "company" affair.

Most French men and women prefer tea in the Russian fashion with a slice of lemon, rather than milk and occasionally with the thin slice of fruit the Russians like.

There are some pretty silver novelties on exhibition at the Blue Moon tea room which would make charming Christmas gifts. There are on exhibition in the afternoon.

RULES FOR SLEEPING.
Have plenty of air in your bed room.
Have one of two much covering.
Always get seven hours sleep.
Take an afternoon nap if you can.
Have your bed medium hard, and your pillow just large enough to raise your head a little.

RULES FOR EATING.
Eat only when you are hungry.
Leave worries outside - the dining room door.
Eat slowly and masticate thoroughly.
Avoid fried food for the sake of your complexion.
Take tea once a day and coffee once a day, or tea twice and coffee not at all.

TIP TO NEWLYWEDS.
Henry Brown's father and mother were married when the son was earning $125 a day, with occasional lay-offs. They started housekeeping in two rooms. She did the housework, made and mended the clothes, took care of the babies and by her capable ways made it possible for her husband to buy something additional. Out of those carefully, painfully accumulated savings Henry was educated.

Henry expects to be married this June. He draws a salary of $25 a week. His girl is the sweetest creature on the face of the earth. Henry's opinion—But she can't cook; she has to have a maid and she and Henry are planning to start in a classy apartment. At the beginning their home will be sweltered than the old folks ever.

But we shall miss our guess if Henry, at the end of the first year, shall have anything in the bank. Or at the end of the second or third or tenth.

Henry's father used to make a very satisfying meal on mush and milk. Catch Henry doing that! He might for sometimes men do have out-faded longings. That Henry's bride won't.

A ride by rail for even a few miles especially for pleasure, was an event in the life of Henry's father and his. But we are willing right now to go on record with the prediction that it won't be long before Henry and his bride will be whizzing through town and country in an automobile. It may not be paid for. And it may not be a limousine. In Henry's $25 per day, but the Jones and the Smiths have autos and the Browns are going to be every bit as good as they.

Of course, it is right that the young generation should be better off than the old. That's what progress is for. The wonderful achievement in wealth production during the past two decades would be actually practical. It takes if young brown and the young Mrs. Brown that is to be counted as their home-making or on higher economic plane than their parents knew in the "cavities" long ago.

But note that we said "better off." What is better off?
It is to be in debt right at the time with no cushion for an emergency.
Or it is to be too hard, practical sense, self-sufficient in the spending of an income, so that when a great thing is a tolerably durable return; and so that no man's what's bought, something is always saved.

Custom the most cruel of tyrants, makes an arbitrary use of it. Wherever, 10 years ago, custom was rather on the side of thrift—it was favorable to save.
If custom is like a pendulum, swinging between extremes, wouldn't it be a pretty good idea that the new-born of the June to give it a push back toward frugality?

The ideal Christmas Box to the family is a mahogany Victor-Victrola, only $26. Comforter furnished sound-proof room for the use of visitors at Herby Hall, Jasper West, adjoining Corona Hotel.

WARREN KERRIGAN AT MONARCH TOMORROW
"The Passerby" Will Linger Long in the Memory of Patrons of This House.

Do you remember that record-breaking play, "The Servant in the House," which stirred Broadway from top to bottom some seasons back and made such a future in the road? It impressed you, didn't it? There was an all-around attractiveness that gave it a zest to the exultantly constructed plot. Such plays are not easily forgotten. Just as "The Passerby" featuring the popular actor, Warren Kerrigan, will linger long in the memory after it has been seen. You can't be impressed by it. There is brilliant technique evidenced in the writing of the play—the sharp suggestion, the drama that makes for a strong, moral lesson and what with the fine character delineation by Mr. Kerrigan, and his associates, it is one play out of 100. In story it is vastly different than the stage play. Yet there is an old story, through unobtrusive in a gripping climax. "The Passerby" is the feature of the Monarch tomorrow.

Betty is giving a lawn party. When it is discovered that 13 are at the table, the servant is sent out to bring a perversity in. The wanderer is brought in and seated beside Joe and Klein, two admirers of Betty.

Later in the evening Joe proposes to the girl and is refused. Klein watches his opportunity to force the situation upon the girl. Madeline then he should be interrupted by the wanderer and rejected by the girl. Klein, the next morning writes the girl's father to the effect that he must pay the note for $1,000 immediately. The wanderer finds this letter on the floor.

Klein goes to the square, instructing him to collect his own note first. After a wordy argument with the colonel, he succeeds, and is then ordered from the house. The wanderer notes it and follows the square. Later, we find the wanderer at the tavern where he is humiliated by Joe. Joe enters, and feigns of jealousy of the wanderer, demands to meet him on the declining stairs. Seconds are agreed upon, at Klein's unwillingness.

Later that night the wanderer is seen writing a note, enclosing $1,000. The colonel finds out the next day next morning, and after attempting to get an explanation from the wanderer, goes over his own note. To Klein, again we find the wanderer and Klein at the tavern. Klein urges the man to pay back. In the meantime, the money has been paid. The wanderer turns it over to the square, saying that he is the wanderer's man.

Joe and the wanderer face each other for the duel. The wanderer refuses to wound the impetuous young knight. He rushes up having been warned and inquired if Joe is truly a knight. The wanderer smiles and, placing her hand in that of Joe's, tells her that the boy has fought for her and is worthy. He then resumes his journey.

Edmonton, Alta.—A sensational secret has been disclosed of a mahogany Victor-Victrola, only $26. Comforter furnished sound-proof room for the use of visitors at Herby Hall, Jasper West, adjoining Corona Hotel.

FAIRY PLAY AT THE PANTAGES THIS WEEK

"Golden Dreams" is Distinctly Appropriate for Christmas Season.
Other Turns Very Good.

Distinctly appropriate for the Christmas season, which is drawing near, is the fairy play at the Pantages this week. "Golden Dreams" is the name given to the production, and as the extravaganza is on the same lines as the old English pantomimes. The fairy book people, whose names are a household word used to lull children to sleep are the basis of the act. Many of the accustomed characters that amused when a child was found duplicated in real life in the act of these home contacts to be in the capable hands of Miss Marguerite Faver, a prepossessing young lady whose clever and talented dancing has won for her many laurels in that city of dancing San Francisco. Surrounding Miss Faver are 15 people who have been chosen as able to give a sterling representation of the parts assigned to them. The scenery is most lavish, consisting of 11 massive sets which transform into various weird palaces and regions such as the palace of King Midas, he of the Golden Touch and a gorgeous red poppy field with all the flowers in full bloom gradually turning into beautiful young women at the touch of the hand of the fairy Queen. The dancing chorus girls further enhance the attractiveness of the offering.

Miss Julia Redmond and her company offer a whimsical sketch of newspaper life, entitled "The Critic and the Girl," dealing with a rare glimpse of the great world of newspaperdom, and Bob Albright, the Male Mello, returns with an entire new repertoire of songs, while Dunbar and Farnar have a tollish offering of the variety described as "Nutty." As the opening act on the program there will be a dog and of exceptional worth. That of food and his 12 acrobatic ballroom. These animals are indeed the acme of canine training from an acrobatic standpoint, and some of the tricks they perform are truly marvelous.

COMFORTS IN GUEST-ROOMS.

Dickens, who travelled, much and suffered many bedpans, gave special regard to the equipment of the guests' sleeping quarters in his famous home, Gad's Hill. "In Charles Dickens as I Knew Him," Charles Doherty recollects: "Each of these rooms contained the most comfortable of beds, a sofa, an easy chair, cane-bottomed chairs—in which Mr. Dickens had great belief, always preferring to use himself—a large-sized writing-table, profusely supplied with paper and envelopes of every description, and an almost daily change of new quilt pens. There was a miniature library of books in each room, a comfortable fire in winter, with shining copper kettle in each fireplace, and, as the side table cups, saucers, tea caddy, teapot, sugar and milk—London Tri-Bliss.

PERIL IN "WHITE" AUSTRALIA.

Colonization offers serious problems for the advocates of a "white" Australia. North Queensland is within that boundary of 20 degrees north and south of the equator in which white men may live. But they cannot take their wives there and found families. The doctor says. And the doctor has noted that whereas the first generation of whites does well, the second and the third lead down to the failure of the fourth—London Standard.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF AN ABSCESS BY
Burdock Blood Bitters

Mr. A. W. Dryden, Amherst, N. H., writes:—"I am going to tell you what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for my son 'Vance,' when only nine months old, got an abscess on his cheek bone. I took him to a doctor in St. John, N. H., and he lanced it, and told me it would get well in a few days, and wanted me to keep it squeezed out. It did not, and keep it quietized one. It did not seem to get any better, so my wife took him back. The Doctor told her to take him home and it would soon get better. It would gather and break, and it went on that way until he was over four years old.

It was a long time before I could get on my feet again. I was lame, and lost all of my strength in my mouth; he had two all of his chest bone, and his eye was drawn down so that he could not see. He wanted to let him go under an operation. He was so small I told them that if he was going to die he might as well die as he was, so to go there and be all out to pieces, so I decided to have the operation done. After that there was going to be Burdock Blood Bitters, as I had heard of it. I can talk so much about it. I got a bottle and when it was about half gone nothing was doing good, and before many days the sore stopped running, and healed up, and the abscess has never broken out again. This happened nearly six years ago, so you can see I have great faith in Burdock Blood Bitters, and it is the best blood medicine in this world.

SIX DAY BICYCLE RACE IN NEW YORK

TEAMS KEEPING WELL TO RECORD IN SIX DAY RACE

Seven Teams of World's Best
Bike Riders Off on Long
Grind.

GOULET LEADING AT THE
THIRD HOUR WITH 73 MLS.
United States Wins International
Preliminary Event—
Kramer First, Clarke
Second.

New York, Dec. 8.—Seven teams, composed of the best bicycle riders in the world, with the exception of Walter Ratt, of Germany, a three time winner, who is incapacitated through injury, and Frank Kramer, the world champion sprinter, are competing in the six day race beginning a few hours after midnight tonight in Madison Square Garden. This twenty-first race of the kind to be held in the big amphitheatre and the first since the war, is the first local season, the contest was arranged for teams.

The track for this year's event has been specially banked for higher speed than ever before and tempting cash inducements have been offered by the management to the teams which will secure a new record. The record is 235 miles, one lap, made by McParland and Moran in 1908.

Seventeen Start.
The annual six-day bicycle race was begun at 12:30 o'clock this morning in Madison Square Garden. Seventeen teams started, and at the end of the first mile, completed in 2:07 1-5, Pete Frohock, of the Jersey Skeeters team, of Indianapolis and Hubstead, was leading the bunch.

At 1 o'clock, at the end of the first hour, the riders, with Goulet leading, had covered 25 miles, six laps, one lap ahead of the record made by Ratt and Bauer.

New York, Dec. 8.—The seven teams which started at midnight in the twenty-first annual six day bike race at Madison Square Garden were not much behind the record at the end of the third hour of the race today. Goulet, of the Australian American team, was leading the riders, having won 73 miles and six laps to their credit. The record is 74 miles, made by Root and Healy in 1912.

Kramer Wins Prelim.
The United States, represented by Frank Kramer, the national sprinter, he champion won the international event in the bicycle race at Madison Square Garden last night, preliminary to the international six-day race which started at midnight Sunday. The race was in heats of a half mile and a mile, and Kramer won both in 1-1/2 minutes and 2:21 4-10ths, respectively. Charlie Clarke, of Australia, was second, and Andre Perichet, of France, and Franco Sori, of Italy, tied for third place on points.

Next in interest to this event was the match team pursuit race, between Americans and Australians, which was a triumph for the Australians. Reggie McQuarrie, Alfred Goulet, and Alfred Goulet, distance was 9 1-4 laps, four laps on the mile track, and the time was four minutes.

FOOTBALL POOL IN LONDON IS RAISED
Vintners' Knock on Door Leads to $500 Fines—Forecasting Soccer Results.

A recent issue of the London (Eng.) Chronicle, contains the following: "For keeping two rooms in Upper Jones street west, for football betting purposes, Arthur Burgess, or Joseph Goff, 26, was fined $500, with the alternative of four months' imprisonment, at London sessions yesterday. His son, Sidney Burgess, or Goff, 26, was fined $250, or three months. Each was ordered to pay $50 costs.

"Mr. Thavers Humphreys, who prosecuted, said the defendants were not on coupons setting out the following Saturday's football matches, and the public were invited to tick off the winners of so many matches, the odds varying according to the number of matches chosen. To pay odds on a certain forecast was a very lucrative business. It was illegal in England, but it was legal in France, and in other countries. This business, which was carried on in the name of 'Joe Goff' and an address in St. James' street, was a considerable trade, and to which a considerable trade was being done. These reached him in an envelope bearing the London postmark.

"On a warrant being executed at Upper Jones street, the police found that a legitimate credit betting business was carried on. It was found that many thousands of addressed envelopes were found, together with 117 postal orders and 117 cheques. The defendant declared that football betting was not done there, but by his son, who was in Switzerland. While the officers were at the place there was a knock at the door, and Goff called a clerk. 'Tell him I don't want any dinner today.' The visitor, however, proved to be the son, who had been in his possession envelopes which were apparently to contain the winners of successful clients.

THE MATHEWSON DIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

BY

to him since he is always going up and down the best pitching which can be served to him.

Few people know that Cobb's eyes do not lie, and Tyne hit 200 with a club that finished down in the race according to the official averages of the American league. It is tougher for a man to make a good showing with a team that is not up in the going, and Cobb deserves all the more credit for his work.

It is my opinion that Cobb is the greatest hitter of all time. The veteran, like "Cap" Anson, may talk of the performers of their days, but I do not believe they had any better in class with Cobb. It is true that he has attained higher averages in the past than he collected for this year, and that he did not realize his ambition to hit more than 400 each season for three consecutive campaigns, but he has a grand average of .468 according to the papers here on the east.

It is at a terrible strain that Cobb accomplishes what he does. He is a very strong man, and he is extremely cautious, so that he frets for fear that someone is going to take a swing away from him. Then every pitcher who faces him tries extra hard against the great slugger because all the crowds on the road demand that Cobb be struck out. There is nothing that a foreign crowd enjoys more than to see some man like Cobb make a big name for himself. Then it is his duty to beat him. I know that in my league I always go after Wagner, with great care and work on him because he is dangerous for one thing, and because of his reputation. Therefore, it will be seen that Cobb's reputation is a handicap.

KIVIAI WINS CROSS COUNTRY RACE, 33.52

Holder of the World's One Mile Indoor Record Wins National Senior Championship.

New York, Dec. 8.—Alfred Kiviai, of the Irish American Athletic club, holder of the world's one-mile indoor record, won the national senior cross-country championship of the Amateur Athletic Union over the six mile course at Vanpool Park this afternoon. The win over the Irish club was a fraction over 17 seconds behind the record for this course, established by James Kibben, of the Boston Athletic club, two weeks ago.

The team championship was won by the Irish American A.C. 32 points. The New York A.C. second, also scored 32 points, but the team prize was awarded to the Irish American A.C. for having finished the winner.

GREAT INTEREST BEING TAKEN IN THE COMING FIGHT

Bombardier Wells and George Carpenter Will Box Tonight.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF EUROPE
AND PURSE OF $15,000
Side Bet of $5,000—Wells
Has Advantage of Height and Reach.

London, Dec. 8.—Quite extraordinary interest is being taken in the return contest at the National Sporting Club here tonight between George Carpenter, idol of France, and Bombardier Wells, hope of the United Kingdom, for the heavyweight championship of Europe, for a purse of $15,000, and a side bet of $5,000.

Wells has a tremendous advantage in height, weight and reach, and most confidence in the expressed in his ability to win, but the odds are only 5 to 4 in his favor. This is accounted for by the fact that on June 1, at Ghent, Wells was defeated in the fourth round by Carpenter after the Englishman had had all the better of the first two rounds.

Both men in the course of their boxing careers have been beaten by Americans. Duke and Klaus accounted for the Frenchman, and Palmer and Gombust Smith for the Englishman.

Opinion is unanimous that the contest will not go the 20 rounds, but that in the first few rounds one of the men will be knocked out. More than a fortnight ago, every seat in the National Sporting Club was disposed of at prices ranging from 25s to 67s.

WEEKS IS CANADIAN MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMP.

Knocks Out Gil Martin, Former Canadian Amateur Champion at Vancouver.

Vancouver, Dec. 8.—Billy Weeks won the Canadian middleweight championship at the Stevenson arena on Saturday night by knocking out Gil Martin, former Canadian amateur champion, in the third round. A heavy fight came to the jaw sent Martin to the mat in the first round, and a second round ended the battle in the third round.

TIGERS WIN 15 TO 7.

Toronto, Dec. 8.—The Hamilton Tigers defeated a Toronto all-star team on Saturday by 15 to 7. The local men put up a keen fight and held the Tigers' line well, but inferior tackling back of the Tigers' best threat, Doug Torrance, lost ground on back kicks and penalties for interference.

MATHEWSON STILL HEADS THE PITCHERS' AVERAGES

Statistics Issued Saturday Show That in 1913 He Pitched Forty Games and Won Twenty-Five—Seventy Were Scored Off Him, Averaging 2.06 Per Game.

New York, Dec. 8.—Christy Mathewson, premier pitcher of the Giants, and one of the shining lights of baseball, leads the list of National league pitchers in the official averages for 1913 season, made public tonight. The New York twister pitched in forty games, and his record victory is 25, as against 11 games lost. The league leader's record is not calculated upon his percentage of victories, however, the system adopted being essentially the same as that used in compiling the American league averages this year, based upon average runs earned per game of nine innings. The list show that 70 earned runs were scored off Mathewson, an average of 2.06 the game.

"Babe" Adams, of Pittsburgh, made the nearest approach to this record. He won 21 and lost 16 games, and the 75 runs earned off his delivery averaged 2.16 to the game. Tresson and Demaree, of New York, are close up, standing third and fourth, with averages of 2.17 and 2.21 respectively. The strike out record of 168 is held by Seaton, of Philadelphia, with Tresson, of the Giants, a close second, his victims numbering 167. Seaton also gave the most bases on balls, 135.

CURTAIN RUNG DOWN.

Montreal, Dec. 8.—The curtain was finally rung down on football in Eastern Canada Saturday, when the Capital team of Toronto, to defeat the Westmont team of Montreal in a game played here for the Canadian Junior championship by a score of 17 to 24. The winners averaged 17 pounds heavier per man and only a plucky fight by the young Westmont team kept the score so down.

MAETERLINCK RIDICULES IDEA BOXING IS DEGRADING

Puts on Gloves With Correspondent and Gives Him Three Lively Rounds.

Paris, Dec. 8.—The Paris correspondent of the London Mail has had a long interview with Maurice Maeterlinck, the Belgian author, on the subject of boxing. Maeterlinck concluded his remarks by donning the gloves and giving the correspondent a lively three rounds.

Maeterlinck ridiculed the idea that boxing was degrading, saying: "It is the discipline of violence; it is violence civilized by conventions that are almost courteous. The boxer is never a coward. On the contrary, his knowledge gives him self confidence. Combative instincts are an integral part of our nature; the man who lacks them lacks mental energy."
